IN RHENISH MOVE

Berlin "Lokal Anzeiger" Lays
Plan for Republic to Paris Intrigue.

U. S. ARMY SCOFFS AT IT
"New Set of German Apostles"
Needed to Make Project Succeed.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, June 3.—The authorities of the American, British and Belgian Armies of Occupation regard activities looking to the establishment of a Rhenish republic as a result of French intrigue and are themselves taking a strictly neutral attitude, according to the Rhenish correspondent of the Lokal Anzeiger.

"It is believed that France is trying to gain by roundabout means what she was unable to force President Wilson to concede—the annexation of the left bank of the Rhine," the correspondent declares. "The Americans and British, however, are freely permitting counter efforts on the part of Germany, which are not permitted in districts occupied by the French. The upper Rhine district would not know of the existence of a new republic but for the Centrist newspapers at Aix-la-Chapelle and Crefeld. There is no desire for a republic from Bingen northward, and the whole northern section of the Rhine province is completely loyal to Germany."

CORNELIUS, June 4.—Regarding the reports received here of the launching of the Rhenish Republic, today's summary of intelligence issued by the American Third Army says:

"The events of the last few days which have culminated in a definite attempt at Wiesbaden to proclaim a Rhenish Republic, independent of Prussia, but nevertheless part of the German federation, might be regarded as the nature of the movement were it not for the fact that they involve the deliberations at Versailles to a certain extent. To the impartial observer the importance of the movement consists chiefly in the opposition which has developed against it.

"One sees no concerted hilarious greeting of this effort for freedom from Prussian rule, but one does see and hear much to the contrary. It would seem that if in the course of events the Rhenish Republic is to become independent of Berlin it will require a set of German apostles better known than those who hitherto have been fathering the movement."

SPARTACAN UPRISING
EXPECTED IN BERLIN

Finding of Rose Luxemburg's
Body Aggravates Situation.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, June 3 (delayed).—The political situation brought about by the increased Spartacan activities has become more tense since the discovery of the body of Rose Luxemburg and the manner in which Gustav Noske, the Minister of Defense, ordered it taken to Zossen, twenty-two miles south of Berlin. In giving the order, it is asserted, the Minister ignored the law which requires that the coroner be notified and the body be placed in a municipal morgue.

The autopsy was to have been held this morning but was delayed because the coroner and the important witnesses all met with accidents while going to Zossen by automobile.

It is learned on good authority that not only did Lieut. Kurt Vogel, convicted in the Liebknecht murder case, escape from prison by means of a false passport, but that Capt. Heits von Pfing-Hartung and Lieut. Liebknecht, convicted in the same case, were also at the same time and in the same way.

News of the escape of the last two officers has been suppressed in the German newspapers because of fear that it might cause a serious uprising against the Government. Sentiment has been bitter against the Government at the laxness which enabled Vogel to escape. The Government is known to be planning quietly and secretly to combat a violent Spartacan uprising, started probably because of the escape of the convicted officers or more likely in connection with the outcome of the peace negotiations, but which will be actually another attempt to overthrow the Government.

It is expected that the centre of the revolt will be Berlin, with the Chancellor's office and the Foreign Office as the chief points of attack. Preparations are being made for protecting these buildings against any attack.

200 GERMAN MAYORS
APPEAL TO AMERICANS

Ask for Peace on Fourteen Points.

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, June 3.—The Magistrates of 200 German municipalities, with populations totaling 30,000,000, have signed an appeal on behalf of the German cities to the American people, protesting against the peace terms and demanding "a peace of justice" such as was promised on the basis of President Wilson's principles.

A number of American born women, who have become German subjects by marriage, are signing a similar appeal to the women of America. This appeal protests also against the continuance of the blockade.

There seems to be a widespread demand on the part of Germans that efforts be made to induce America to enter into a sort of limited alliance with Germany or take a protectorate over this country, giving Germany financial aid and protection and taking in return the larger share of the profits of the country's industrial activities. This sentiment, which first made its appearance last December, appears to have become stronger very recently.

Privy Councillor Bernmann, formerly a partner in the German Edison companies and one of the largest industrial magnates here, suggests a German-American partnership, with America the senior and controlling partner.

LONDON, June 4.—Heretofore it has been illegal to make bequests in the United Kingdom for the saving of masses for the dead. The money so left reverted back to the estate for the benefit of the next of kin.

The House of Lords yesterday brought joy to the hearts of Roman Catholics by changing the law. From now on it is lawful here to make such bequests.

NEW U. S. BRAZIL
CABLE IS PLANNED

Western Union Projects Line
From Miami to Belem in Near Future.

An international cable, stretching 3,200 miles from Miami, Fla., through Barbados to Belem, Brazil, will be constructed within six months, according to an announcement made yesterday by Newcomb Carlton, president of the Western Union Telegraph Company.

The contract for the new system has not been signed, but an agreement has been entered into by the Western Union and the Western Telegraph Company of Great Britain, which will connect the eastern seaboard of South America, and with the utilization of overland routes already in operation provide communication with the cities on the western coast of the southern continent.

The cable will be the terminal of the proposed cable line, the Western Union building the cable from Miami to Barbados and the British system extending its Brazilian and Argentine lines up the coast from Belem to Barbados. Each company will have about 1,600 miles of cable to lay. The American line will not use the Cuban cable, but will use one which skirts Cuba and Hayti, and thence pass through Hayti and Porto Rico to Barbados. The Western Union has already secured options on the material necessary, and will start work as soon as the contract is signed.

"The arrangement with the British corporation," said Mr. Carlton, "will guarantee the Western Union service to Americans, with a prompt and economical means of instituting North and South American connection. It is an enterprise of great importance and will be of tremendous value to commercial and newspaper interests. Special rates will be provided for the press."

SENATORS ARE FOR FREE IRELAND PLEA

Committee Reports Borah
Measure Urging a Hearing in Paris.

Special Dispatch to The Sun.

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The resolution demanding that the American peace delegation in Paris use its influence in behalf of securing a fair chance for the Irish delegates to present their case to the Peace Conference, favored by Senator Borah (Idaho), was reported favorably to the Senate today by the Foreign Relations Committee. Only Senator Swanson (Va.), a Democrat, who has taken the mantle of Senator Martin (Va.) since the Democratic leader's illness, opposed the resolution and voted against reporting it out of committee.

The almost complete unanimity of the committee in urging a hearing for De Valera and his associates who are seeking the establishment of an Irish republic was interpreted by a number of Senators as a striking instance of the anti-Irish feeling which has been engendered in the Senate since the first league covenant was made public.

Anti-British Feeling Grows.
As a matter of fact this feeling has grown to proportions which have given rise to the suggestion that there is an agreement among anti-league Senators to pound away at Great Britain in fighting the League of Nations. However, it can be stated on the authority of the leaders of the fight that there has never been a moment's consideration of any such agreement, but that the league itself, with the advantages given to England and her colonies and dominions, with the assurance that the balance of the world will help to keep British dominion intact forever, and with the six votes Great Britain would have in the league assembly to one for every other nation, have fostered a strong and growing anti-British sentiment in the Senate.

The realization that under the terms of the proposed League of Nations the Irish people would be bound around by agreements that the United States and every other member of the proposed war league would have to take up arms against Ireland if it ever forcibly sought to separate itself from British dominion, as the American colonies did, has solidified to a great extent this feeling among Senators.

Even Democrats who will in the end follow their usual course and vote with the President when the league question comes to the crucial test in the Senate took advantage of the situation in the Foreign Relations Committee today to voice their views in voting to report the Borah resolution favorably.

It is becoming more evident each day that the guarantees of British dominion over hundreds of millions of peoples in Ireland as the "president of the Irish Republic," has issued his first official pronouncement concerning the re-

SALONICA, June 4.—A proclamation inviting the Turks to massacre the Greeks in Thrace has been distributed at Salonica. The text of the proclamation is published here.

Gen. Herbert, commanding the Third French Army, has arrived here on a special mission. He has conferred at length with Gen. Paraskevopoulos, the Greek commander in chief.

At the present moment, while the number of cattle shows a decrease of 30 per cent, the dairy and beef production is probably not more than 50 per cent because of the bad condition of the animals. As to the feed crops in Europe for animals, it is too early to forecast crop prospects. To all appearances about 75 per cent of the usual yield will result.

"Taking all factors together, every evidence points to continued large imports of animal products, provided the resources can be found to pay for them. The exporting countries as a whole possess considerable increased herds and the oil production of the tropics is capable of large expansion."

WORLD'S SUPPLY
OF FOOD IN SIGHT

Indicated Harvests Big Enough to Tide Europe for a Year.

PARIS, June 4.—There is a sufficient surplus of food indicated from the coming harvest to supply Europe and meet the needs of the world unless some unexpected catastrophe happens to the world's harvests, according to a statement issued yesterday by Herbert C. Hoover, the head of the allied relief organization.

The bread budget balances, but the surplus of the American crop of wheat and rye this year will be needed. The statement says that most of the trading in wheat and rye will be in the hands of the Government.

Other figures gained from the survey made by the organization and various Governments indicate that the sugar crop in Eastern Europe this year will be 65 per cent of pre-war normal, the wheat and rye crop 77 per cent, and the vegetable harvest about normal. Since the war, it is estimated, Europe has lost 18,000,000 cattle, 35,000,000 hogs and 8,600,000 sheep.

After estimating the European consumption of wheat and rye at 2,500,000,000 bushels of which between 700,000,000 and 850,000,000 bushels will have to be imported, the statement continues: "The available breadstuffs to Europe from the producing countries will probably lie between 770,000,000 and 850,000,000 bushels. It would appear, therefore, that the world's breadstuffs will balance next year within narrow margins. In any event, the present indications are that the American bumper wheat and rye crop will be needed. The principal importing European Governments have all guaranteed their farmers prices at higher levels than the American guarantees and all are involved in brand subsidies. There will not be much likelihood of much private trade in wheat next year outside of Government buying."

"The European production of sugar will be apparently about 65 per cent of the pre-war normal and before the war imports averaged 2,500,000 tons per annum. The buying power of the people so greatly affects the consumption of this commodity that no estimate of the probable import demands can be forecast. The crops of potatoes, peas, beans, cabbage and other vegetables promise to be about pre-war normal.

"Our survey of the food animals shown compared to pre-war conditions there is a net decrease of 15,400,000 cattle in the 98,800,000 in the herds before the war; a decrease of 35,500,000 swine from 48,300,000 and a decrease of 8,600,000 sheep from the pre-war total of 109,800,000. The number of horses also has greatly diminished.

"The cattle in Europe are rapidly becoming an average a year younger than before the war because of the tendency to save the calves and kill the older animals. The cattle in these regions are greatly emaciated with but little milk and meat value until summer feed and imported feed grains are available for animals. It is too early to forecast the increase in other areas due to the tendency to substitute animals that do not require imported food for those that do require it.

"At the present moment, while the number of cattle shows a decrease of 30 per cent, the dairy and beef production is probably not more than 50 per cent because of the bad condition of the animals. As to the feed crops in Europe for animals, it is too early to forecast crop prospects. To all appearances about 75 per cent of the usual yield will result.

BRITISH WARNED OF DANGER TO SHIPPING

Press Protests Against Allocation of German Vessels to United States.

Special Cable Dispatch to The Sun.

LONDON, June 4.—The allocation of German tonnage to the United States continues to bring out considerable protests in the British press.

J. C. Gould, a member of Parliament, writing in the Pall Mall Gazette, says: "I have protested against this unjustifiable allocation, not from the viewpoint of a British ship owner, but from the standpoint of the well being and interests of the whole British nation."

"Gradually it is being realized that our maritime interests at the Peace Conference are being sadly neglected. The continued protest against the continued acquisition of Germany's shipping by America brings forth no denial. At all costs our maritime supremacy must be maintained. It is inadvisable to say that we have borne the brunt of the sacrifice. Our progress in the world race will be impeded."

"America came into the war for the imperative necessity of maintaining her own rights and principles. She came in late, but was welcomed."

"Protests against such unjust allocations will grow when it is realized that such awards will have a most prejudicial effect on our transatlantic shipping trade. Unless vigorous protests are made the country will witness the disappearance of its shipping prestige. Britain's export trade has dwindled to a grave extent, while simultaneously our imports have reached tremendous proportions."

"Add to this our growing problems of unemployment of British seamen and there is a grave picture of the havoc wrought on our staple industries. These allocations will have a great influence on our textile trades, which by reason of our supremacy in shipping before the war, were predominant."
